*Disclaimer: A student's cost of attendance (COA) consists of allowable educational costs that consist of direct costs charged by the institution such as tuition, fees, equipment, and housing as well as indirect costs the student may pay out-of-pocket for books, supplies, board, personal miscellaneous and transportation expenses that may be incurred during enrollment. A student is expected to budget accordingly to stay within their cost of attendance for the year. In rare circumstances, a Financial Aid Officer may on a case-by-case basis adjust a cost of attendance for students who are not attending full-time for the entire length of the semester or who have real and reasonable allowable costs related to child-care expenses, one-time computer/educational device purchase, unexpected medical expenses, or major car repairs. Adjustment requests may be denied as well as increase requests for relocation, deposits, credit card/consumer debt, spousal expenses, vehicle purchase/rental or expenses incurred outside of the enrollment period. This is subject to change without notice and is updated yearly. The academic calendar consists of two consecutive semesters during the academic year with summer semesters dependent upon individual program requirements.
