I'm truly grateful for the donated stethoscope that we receive. I felt honored to be welcomed into the community with such a gift on my first day at ACHE.

OTs help make life’s activities more accessible. Our typical workday could include helping people shower, do messy crafts, or even cook! Scrubs allow us to be comfortable and professional while working alongside our clients.

HEALTH EDUCATION

Arkansas Colleges of Health Education (ACHE) is a not-for-profit institution located on 500+ acres in Fort Smith. ACHE is fulfilling its mission of educating future healthcare professionals through its programs: Arkansas College of Osteopathic Medicine (ARCOM), Master of Science in Biomedicine (MSB), School of Physical Therapy (ACHE PT), School of Occupational Therapy (ACHE OT), and the Master of Public Health (MPH). Off-campus, ACHE is committed to making a difference in the community. The ACHE Research Institute Health & Wellness Center (RIHWC) is a cutting-edge, 317,000-square-foot facility dedicated to promoting community health and wellness through a diverse range of classes. This facility is the home to a state-of-the-art biomedical research lab, ready to direct groundbreaking research. This institution embodies the commitment to fostering both individual well-being and advancing scientific discovery, positioning the RIHWC as a vital hub for health and wellness excellence in our region. ARKANSAS COLLEGES OF
HEALTH EDUCATION

Dear Friend,

As a new class of students arrives from across the country to begin their journey in our doctoral programs, they step forward with a shared commitment to serve and improve the lives of others.

A stethoscope or set of scrubs may seem simple, but to our students, these gifts represent encouragement and the start of a meaningful path in healthcare. We invite you to join us this year in making a lasting first impression. Your generosity continues to inspire and uplift the next generation of healthcare leaders!

With gratitude,

Jarred Rego
Director of Advancement
